Foreword

Is chivalry dead? "No!" we answer. At Monroe Manor, under the leadership of Baron Weitz, we uphold the code of chivalry. Within these hallowed walls, the concepts of honor, respect, adherence to scholarship, and physical fitness are taught. Students periodically leave the manor to explore outside cultures by competing in examinations, attending lectures, and participating in conferences. Those who stay at home receive flavorings of opera and drama from wandering minstrels.

From the lowest sophomore-serf to the highest senior-noble, the sacred name of our Great Lady Education is held in highest esteem. We stand defiant against the Black Knight of Ignorance. Cognizant of the many facets of chivalry, we are ready to bridge the moat of our feudal manor into a complex modern world. What evil forces lying ahead cannot be suppressed by the application of these ideals?

ANNA ELEANOR ROOSEVELT
1884-1962

Dedication

When Eleanor Roosevelt passed away this November, the world mourned a great loss. She was the friend of every man who pushed a plow, worked a machine or rode a camel. She was, as Presidents have coined the phrase, "the first lady of the world."

What was it, that won her the respect of every living person? It wasn't her looks, for she was not physically attractive. Yet she had an inner beauty, translated into a love of man, that brought her to the chairmanship of the United Nations Human Rights Commission. She worked incessantly toward acceptance of the International Bill of Rights. She was always championing a cause, whether it was the refugees from Dachau or the peaceful solution to "the bomb." It narrowed down to the simple, common denominator, "peace on earth."

She, as did her husband, served as a vital link between East and West in both the "Hot" and "Cold" Wars. She earned universal distinction for her unselfish efforts for the betterment of all men, regardless of race, color, creed, or sex.

There is nothing new that can be said about Mrs. Roosevelt—nothing that hasn't been enumerated time and again in the past. We in Monroe would do well to realize our goals in life as fully as she did. Her life can serve as a standard against which we can measure our own accomplishments. Although we may not achieve the political and world prominence she attained, we should endeavor to develop our love of mankind and, in some way, aid those less fortunate than ourselves. By helping to raise the economic, political, and social standards of others, we, in turn, raise our own moral standards.

June 1963

Dear Graduates:

You, the class of 1963, have just completed another step on the journey to maturity and adulthood. I hope that your experiences at Monroe have given you, in addition to knowledge and skills, a sense of values that will enable you to pursue your goals with an application of what is most worthwhile in life.

In the year 1963, you are facing a future filled with many new challenges. There is so much more to learn, there are so many changes taking place, and there are innumerable pressures and temptations placed in the path of every individual. Which way shall you turn? Your day-to-day decisions about what is worthy of your attention will add up to the value of your existence.

We at Monroe have tried to cultivate in you a sense of values that will enable you to face the world with courage and integrity. We hope that you will continue to study and learn, to keep an open mind, and to work with others to build a better and more peaceful world.

To paraphrase the words of a British poet:

"You are the music-makers
You are the dreamer of dreams
Yes, you are the movers
And shakers of the world
Forever, it seems."

Cordially yours,

Leo Weitz

A DAY AT THE MANOR

January Grads fill out Senior Cards.

Throughout the journey of a student from a "Tale of Two Cities" to "Beowulf" and "Hamlet," the watchful eye of Mrs. Anne Harris of the English Department is upon him. If he shows promise there are specialized courses available to him in his senior year. These courses, the advanced placement English Course and the World Literature Course, offer more advanced work in specific areas of study.

The Art Department, under the chairmanship of Mr. Louis Frees, has had another year of success with the addition of a modern drafting room. For seniors, a major art course is given to those interested in developing artistic abilities. The most important social event of the year, the annual spring show, "Quartet," included the Art Department's magnificent display of original works by its best students.

Mr. Greenberg and Senior Orchestra

Under the direction of Mr. Irving Fierstein, the Music Department provided seniors with an opportunity to learn about the great role which music plays in the culture of Western civilization. In addition to a continual series of performances at assembly programs, the Music Department offered seniors special courses in Music Survey and Harmony. The Music Department also conducts a choir and a chorus.

The Language Laboratory has become a regular part of the instructional program of the Foreign Language Department. Classes that are scheduled in the lab get an increased opportunity to improve their own speaking abilities by hearing the actual languages spoken by experts. Mr. Aristide Masella, the Chairman of the Department, maintains that our laboratory, under the leadership of Mrs. Sylvia Berger, is accumulating a fine library of tapes for laboratory lessons.

An experimental pupil-teaching method has originated in the Biology Department. As outlined by Mr. Paul Goldreich, department head, the two objectives are: to test the effectiveness of lectures as a method of instruction, and to see how the average student reacts to education centered around independent study. The two participating classes have varied programs which include lectures, laboratory experiments, study periods, and films. The laboratory work, under the supervision of senior pupil teachers, emphasizes subject matter not covered in other biology classes. Mr. Goldreich finds this new method of instruction very successful.

Seniors had many opportunities to enrich their mathematics knowledge during the 1962-63 terms. Those who participated in the accelerated course in their tenth and eleventh years were offered a college course in calculus and analytic geometry. Upon completion of this course, many students will receive advanced standing and freshman credit in the colleges. Additionally, there was a Regents course in Modern Mathematics which covered advanced algebra and solid geometry. For those students who had completed advanced algebra in the fall term, there was a course in advanced mathematics. This course included solid geometry, analytic geometry and differential and integral calculus.

Seniors also had the opportunity to join two math clubs. They were the Mathematics Contest Problems Club, under the direction of Miss Butler, and the Modern Mathematics Club, under the supervision of Mr. Marcus. For those who had the inclination there was a broad opportunity in mathematics.

Under the direction of Mr. Paul Warner, The Social Studies Department has innovated a new Team Teaching Program. This program uses the lecture format and two teachers lecturing on specific material, on a team basis. Team teaching also involves the use of library research under the supervision of two Senior Student teachers. After four days of this combination Library-Lecture Program, the classes review and discuss the subject matter of the week.

Other special offerings include courses in ancient and medieval history and Problems of American Democracy, both offered to seniors.

One of the special courses offered to interested seniors is Teacher Apprenticeship. In an effort to prepare them for teaching, the students aided and observed teachers in Public School 77. The class met frequently with its teacher, Mr. Seelenfreund, and discussed techniques and problems encountered by students during the week. This course provides an inspiring experience for those who are preparing for teaching.

The guidance program at Monroe ranges all the way from freshman orientation to senior advice with regard to job placement and college applications. The basic guidance contact that every student is aware of from his entrance to James Monroe is his individual guidance counselor who advises on subject choices. The guidance outlook may include advice from one of the deans, consultations with members of the College Office Staff, the Honor School Advisor or an individual classroom teacher. We, at Monroe, feel we have a very fine and comprehensive guidance program which is aimed at helping each student reach his maximum potential.

Our school is privileged to have one of the finest Physical Science Departments in New York City. This department offers Chemistry and Physics, Advanced Chemistry (Talent), Earth Science, and Radio Physics.

The chairman of this department, Mr. Samuel Troik, has organized an after school Physical Science Research Club which offers talented students an opportunity for independent research.

The Annual P.T.A. Roundtable of Books under the leadership of Lord Fineman was held in the Ladies Athletic Quarters on November 14-16. The youth of Monroe Manor were poor and starved for learning's sake and would rather spend their gold on books than food. The abundant array of merchants' wares made this the most successful "Roundtable of Books" ever held at Monroe Manor.

If students decided to strike the school and stop performing service, it is entirely possible that our school would close its doors. There would be no one to answer the switchboard, no one to stuff the letterboxes, no one to hold back the hordes at the cafeteria doors, no one to deliver urgent messages summoning students to Mr. Brucato's office, and no one to sit in the main lobby and greet visitors. It would indeed be a sad state of affairs. Seriously, it is a great contribution of inestimable value that is made by our many students who do school service. It is helpful to the entire school and also to the individual student inasmuch as he is learning valuable skills and performing an important service which is necessary in a democratic community. It has always been evident that the more responsible and adult students are the backbone of our service squads. We commend them to your praise.

Football

This year our football coach, Joe Consagra tried to revitalize the team by sharpening the offensive and defensive squads. After this the Consagramen went on to defeat Roosevelt of Yonkers in a pre-season scrimmage.

Opening the season, Monroe lost a heartbreaker to Lafayette in the last seconds of the game. The Eagles had the game in the bag until Lafayette completed a 45 yard touchdown pass to beat Monroe 12-7.

– Offensively, Monroe had a winning combination of Quarterbacks (Elkes, Buckley, Lentino, Holtmeyer, and Malovney). Opening holes were Linesmen (Eagle, Fena, Sak, Munoy, Cahill, Katz and Parker) so that Monroe's Backs (Pesce, Oxeos, Gerson, DeLucio, and Riveria) could scamper through.

Line Play:
Monroe vs. Lafayette.

One of the most colorful spots in any football game is half-time. Undeniably, Monroe's majorettes did their part to add to the sparkle of the intermissions. Dressed in their red and white uniforms, they braved the coldest days to cheer the team and entertain the spectators.

Their intricate formations and exact precision showed the results of the hard work of their advisor, Miss Beth Demostses. Under the leadership of Captain Beth Zavilowitz and Co-Captain Arlene Harnish, the work of the majorettes made them a proud asset to our school.

Swimming Squad Practices for Big Meet.

Swimming

The Mermen, under the watchful eye of Gerald McGarry, dived into a winning season. The team was able to match last year's record of six wins and three losses.

The highlights of the season came during the meet with the Bronx H.S. of Science. "We were just touched out in the relay in one of the best meets in the Bronx," emphasized Mr. McGarry. The final score was 48-47, in favor of Science. Leading the team were Co-Captains Richard Miller and Richard Neale. Paul Clayton, Barry Brock, Bruce Weisbard, and Bernard Golden sparked Monroe's free style swimming events. Chuck Davis and Robert Dick fought brilliantly in the individual medleys.

Golf

Mr. Sam Tolkoff, the coach of the golf team, developed a winning team surpassing last year's 3-5 record.

Jerry Josepher, Captain of the Golf Team, Richie Feuer, Lloyd Goldman, Cliff Weinstein, and Joel Moses led the opponents against eight Bronx teams. The boys shot consistently in the high nineties and finished with a winning record.

MR. TOLKOFF AND MEMBERS OF GOLF TEAM: Captain Jerry Josepher, Lloyd Goldman, Cliff Weinstein and Marty Zweibach.

TENNIS TEAM: Stan Rosenbaum, Robert Rosenbluth, Charles Fleischman and Coach Baretz.

Tennis

The tennis season opened in April with Coach Baretz trying to emulate last year's record of 5-2. He was aided in his efforts by Robert Rosenbloth, Charles Fleishman, Jeff Needle, and team Manager Stan Rosenbaum.

Three of the 7 racketmen were honored with awards at the Alumni Dinner. They were Charles Fleishman, Jeff Needle, and Stan Rosenbaum. Coach Baretz was satisfied with the team's performance.

Handball

One of the most powerful handball teams in the city is coached by Mr. Donald Waldman. The team for the past seven years has won the Bronx championship, winning seventy-one consecutive divisional contests.

The team hopes to continue this winning streak putting forth Eugene Weisman, Lenny Alexander, Richie Saffer, Alan David, Marty Rayson, and Robert Leader as starting seniors on the team.

Basketball

Under the able coaching hand of Mr. Sam Tolkoff, who was assisted by Mr. Mike Sandman, the Eagle Cagers finished the '63 season with a 4-10 record. Led by the fine shooting eye of Lon Morrison and Danny Ring, the basketballers showed high spirited form in their tough league competition. Veterans Ring and Morrison each scored high games of 16 points.

Grabbing rebounds was Ira Nuddleman, a newcomer to the team. He stunned opponents with his fine defensive play. Paul Payne, starting guard, took on the task of playmaker, setting up numerous baskets.

The second team starred Andy Constantinides and James Williams. They were fine substitutes during the strenuous season.

Monroe vs. Gompers: Jump ball. Danny Ring takes a free throw. Lonnie Morrison makes a basket.

Bowling

Sparked by the leadership of Captain and State Junior Champ Sam Caliquire, Coach Paul Flaum's Keglers had one of the best bowling seasons in Monroe's history. The team advanced as far as the quarter-finals. The Bronx Championship was taken for the first time in ten years.

The Keglers bowled over every team they played, thus achieving a fine 10-0 record. Team seniors were Sam Caliquire; Dave Ruberfeld, Captain; Paul Seidman; Art Baker; Bennie Freed and Allan David.

Bowling Team

CHEERLEADERS: Top Row: Carol Siegal, Marcia Broth, Carol Klugman, Jill Pollack, Carolyn Greenfield, Nancy Laptook, Eleanor Goldstein. Kneeling: Alicia DeCarlo, Captain; Barbara Feigenbaum, Co-Captain.

Cheerleaders

Do you take Cheerleaders for granted? Being a Cheerleader is more complicated than just wearing a short skirt and bulky sweater. It takes many hours of hard work and practice to obtain necessary precision and coordination.

Under the supervision and guidance of Miss Rita Rutherford, the girls are trained to rouse the spirits of the members of our teams as well as to entertain the spectators.

This year's senior Cheerleaders are Marcia Broth, Eleanor Goldstein, Carolyn Greenfield, Carol Klugman, Penny Polatsch, and Jill Poller, who have been on the squad since their Junior years. Perry Baron, Nancy Laptook and Carol Siegel have been cheerleaders since their Sophomore year and the girls have been led by Barbara Feigenbaum, Co-Captain, and Alicia DeCarlo, Captain.

Monroe Booters in Action.

Soccer

The Soccer Team under the experienced hand of Mr. John Jangl underwent a stormy season losing seven out of twelve games, tying two, and winning three. Jangl's sophomore year as a coach proved the Sophomore Jinx Theory.

Handicapped by the loss of many veterans, The Boosters were unable to emulate last year's successful season. Sparking the relatively new team were Senior Co-Captains Nick Cuomo and Sal Lando. Coach Jangl anticipates a great season next year due to the experience of our sophomore players who will be returning next year.

Despite our poor season we have two exceptional players who attempted to join the All City Soccer Team. Sal Lando made the team and Nick Cuomo won honorable mention. Congratulations, Boys!

MR. MILTON GOLDSMITH awards Track Trophy to Gary Smith at annual Letter Club dinner.

Track

Mr. Milton Goldsmith, who was track coach here for more than twenty years, retired in January, 1963.

Mr. Goldsmith, a native New Yorker, entered the school system in 1926, as a substitute teacher and coach of track at his alma mater, George Washington high school. His team took the Bronx-Manhattan championship in his first year. He was appointed to Monroe in 1941.

Among the outstanding track and field men coached by him, we find the three Slowick boys; Jerry Monkofsky, who is now an assistant track coach at N.Y.U.; G.O. Adviser Paul Flaum, who was captain of the Monroe team and went on to be captain of his team at Columbia; Ike Matza, metropolitan champion; Warren Bright, one of the best runners ever produced in this city, one who was never beaten in high school competition and became national champion in the 400-yard dash; and Al Grier, who set the P.S.A.L. mark for the quarter mile.

Mr. Goldsmith spent thirty years teaching boys the value of sportsmanship and fair play. I asked him to compare the boy of his youth with the boy of today.

"The boy of today is more aware of the world around him, and his values have changed a little, but not fundamentally. He is more sophisticated, and that isn't a virtue."

"Do you feel that the boy of today is a better citizen?"

"There have always been good boys and bad boys."

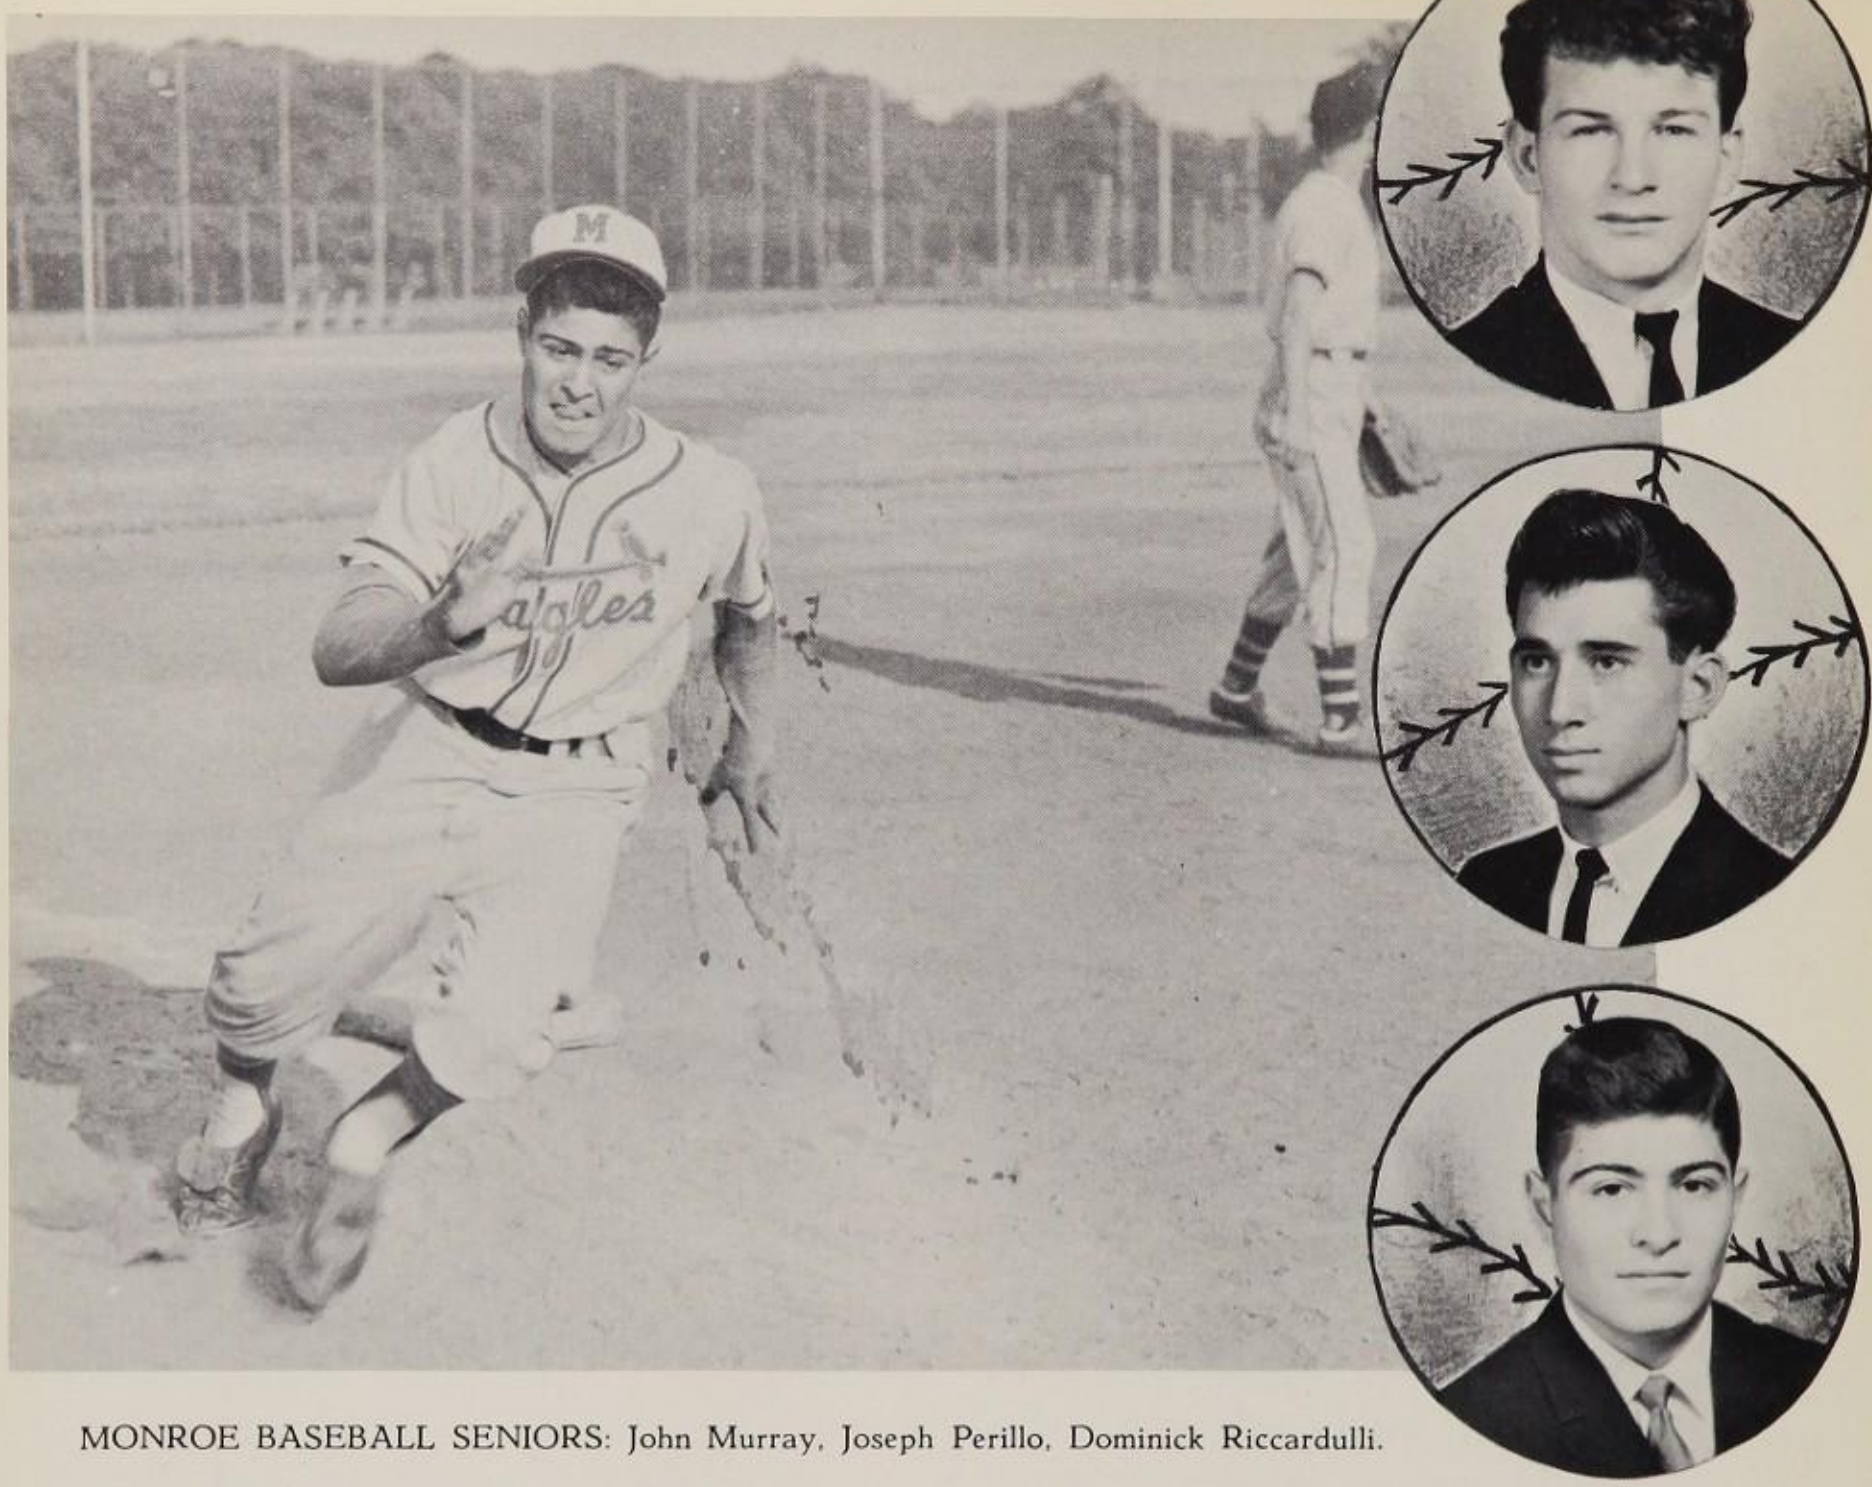
"Do you feel that the boy of today is a better athlete?"

"Yes. Boys are running faster than ever. They are stronger too, but why I don't know. Perhaps it's because of better nutrition and improved training methods."

"What is the greatest thrill you have ever received in your years of coaching?"

"I think it was the development of Al Grier into the fine runner he is today. He came to me as a junior from another school where he did not run. He worked very hard, and he became the fastest quarter miler east of the Mississippi."

TRACK TEAM: Coach Milton Goldsmith; Ronald Fiandaca; Aldo Parcesepe; Steve Roth; Steve Keller; Gary Smith, Captain; Morton Jacobs, Manager. Kneeling: Rodney Taney; Micheal Garber; Eddie McKeith.



MONROE BASEBALL SENIORS: John Murray, Joseph Perillo, Dominick Riccardulli.

Baseball

Hoping to repeat on last year's record, the Eagle Nine led by Coach Joe Consagra are looking forward to another successful season. Going into the 1963 season the Eagles have a victory streak of twenty-two straight Bronx P.S.A.L. Victories for 1960-62. The overall record of the team from 1960-62 is sixty games won and nine games lost. We almost captured the City Championship last year and this season the Eagle Nine will be going for the distant fences with such veterans as: Joe Perillo, Dom Riccardulli, John Murray, Sal Cannizzaro and Al Cruz.

"Noble princesse, that never haddest pere."

Senior-nobles at last! After three years of squiredom, we have evolved from the lowly sophomore-serf to this position of high esteem. We've braved the dragons in 164, explored the labyrinth in 161, and survived the "food" in the fifth floor tower. We've mastered the art of receiving and returning parental consent slips in ONE day, and we've ALMOST mastered the words of the "Alma Mater."

It was worth the effort to achieve the status of being a senior-noble. Who else could have a dungeon locker and a fifth floor home-room class? Who else can get a shiny yellow card with Angela Occhiogrosso's autograph for only ten dollars? But the charley-horse from Bear Mountain, the scarred nylons from Club '63, and the heat prostration from Valley Forge are all equalized when you can brazenly step up to the counter on Senior Day and receive your free cupcake!

Halloween Dance

The All Hallow's Eve Dance was held in "Club 63" of the Knights' Jousting Arena. The Jazz Band Minstrels played while the serfs of Monroe Manor danced on and on. Many yeomen received awards for their participation in the tournaments.

This dance was one of a series of events that will sparkle the Senior year at Monroe Manor. The popularity of these dances among the student body makes them all the more successful. Other dances the Monrovian will encounter are the dance which culminates Senior Day in May, and, of course, the Senior Prom. This, of course, is the highlight of the Senior year.

"Swing your partner."

"We won the prizes!"

"Look, Ma, I'm dancing."

OUR THREE YEAR DEBT

Oh hark ye, never-ending run,
Our three year debt now is done.
The fruits of our labor,
Now can we savour,
For our graduate's diploma is won.

With sweat, worry, and anxiety,
The tests were done in propriety.
The homework of nocturnal hours
on end,
Has now been terminated—Amen!

12-17 NAMES TO REMEMBER

A FAREWELL TO MR. WAISSAR

ELADIO AVILES
Here's a name you want to remember,
Let's hope he makes art school by September.
JAMIE AVILIS
Reserved, silent, not much to say,
Outside we're sure he's very gay.
GLORIA LUKASH
It's hard to find a rhyme for her,
She's everything that we prefer.
BONNIE BENEZRA
She is known as a quiet lass,
But always winds up tops in her class.
RAIMUNDAO BONILLA
A soccer champ he's sure to be,
To watch him we will pay a fee.
LUZ CAQUIAS
Not too quiet and not too gay,
A real nice girl in every way.
PETER CARELLI
The change of periods to him is boring,
It interrupts his gentle snoring.
ELLEN COVINO
Pleasant, and jolly as a girl can be,
Long she'll live in our memory.
ANGELA D'AMICO
Always peppy and full of fun,
She is liked by just everyone.
NANCY D'ANDREA
Clever, pretty, smart and neat,
A finer girl you'll never meet.
DONNA DAVIS
To her there's just one mystery,
It is a subject known as History.
JOEL DeGREGORIO
As president he has much to say,
A great speaker he'll be some day.
JACQUELINE DelPRINCIPE
As pretty a girl as you can see,
A makeup artist she hopes to be.
BARBARA DePALMA
In class she's seldom on the beam,
It's Nicky who's always in her dream.
CAROL ERLICKMAN
Far beneath her innocent eye,
Deviltry and some mischief lie.
DOROTHY GARQUILA
Always quiet and never wild,
What's to be done with a gal so mild?
ALDO GIUSTI
If he ever finishes Driver's Ed.
The truck he'll drive will be bright red.
NATALIE GLASSOFF
Always calm and quite collected,
Her faults will never be detected.
NORMA GONZALEZ
Always friendly, always smiling,
Really chic and so beguiling.
ROSLYN HAYNES
Lonely, sweet and what a honey,
But always says "Who has some money?"
SARA IANNACCONE
A good samaritan in every deed,
To Santa, a very good friend in need.
JOAN JOHNSON
Service is her middle name,
Let's hope it brings her lasting fame.
JAMES KEARNEY
If Mr. Waissar says, "Please wear a tie,"
His answer is just one word—"Why?"
PAULA KISSIK
During school she's quiet and slow,
But afterwards just watch her go!
CAROLYN KLAUSNER
Here's a girl with rare bright wit,
Who never fails to make a hit.
NANCY KRAVITY
Impulsive, rash and temperamental,
But at heart quite sentimental.
DOREEN LAURICELLA
Her whole description would be complete,
With just three words—short, cute, and sweet.
IRENE LINDER
Modest, pert and ever so shy,
The boys, they often wonder why.
PATRICIA McMILLIN
She comes early, is never late,
The first one out at any rate.
MAUREEN MILLARDO
A pretty face she sure does own,
But only Jimmy has her phone.
RAYMOND MARILLO
He's a fellow who's really swell,
If you get to know him very well.
ALICIA NIEVES
Lo, and behold—a nurse she'll be,
We're certain the patients will jump with glee.
DENA POHL
All the boys would run long miles,
For one of her seductive smiles.
ANTHONY RICCO
This boy, you know, is not very tall,
But how he loves to play football.
ZENA ROSENBERG
Gentle, petite and so demure,
Most popular with the boys we're sure.
MYRON SHRENKEL
With a pleasant smile and a jolly laugh,
He works away at the mimeograph.
SANTA SORBELLO
For a friend that's loyal and true,
Sara knows she's the girl for you.
YVETTE VINIKOER
When pals desert you and you're blue,
Metu will still be true to you.
CLAIRE WISEMAN
Someday they'll say about her art,
Monroe's where she got her start.
MERYL ZWISOHN
A saucy lass, so bright and sunny,
The doctors think she is quite funny.

ALMA MATER

Beyond the city's noise and clamor,
Serene beneath the heaven's gold,
Clear in the radiant morning sunlight,
Our Alma Mater we behold.
To us its loyal sons and daughters,
A glorious task it now shall be,
To write in blazing crimson letters
Monroe's fair history.

And on the altars of devotion,
We vow to glorify its name,
To make its story one bright legend,
Of love and service, faith and fame.
In paths of learning this our motto,
"To seek the truth we'll ever dare"
On field of sport, Monroe will win, for
We'll battle brave and fair!

That when with age its name is honored
And ivy twines about its walls,
Faint echoes of the past shall hallow
Its dear and ever sacred halls.
And we who love our Alma Mater
Shall see its glories still unfold,
With loyal pride and true devotion for
The Crimson and the Gold.
